

PRIVATE MEDIATION

JAMES L. POLK, P.E.

Certified County Court Mediator
Certified Neutral Evaluator
Certified Arbitration Trained

With over forty years experience as an engineer in industry, consulting, education, and government service, and working on a variety of civil and environmental projects, Jim brings a unique perspective to his mediation clients. As both a certified county mediator and a licensed real estate agent, he offers private mediation services in construction, construction contracts, real estate, local government ordinances and regulations, environmental conflicts, surface water hydrology, and sinkholes.

Calling upon the experience of a varied engineering career, Jim provides a unique perspective in understanding construction and the myriad of complexities that contribute to misunderstandings and disputes. As a practicing professional engineer, he has applied that knowledge to understand, analyze, and appreciate the complicated work of the construction industry, its methods and procedures, and its customary practices.

Bachelor of Civil Engineering

University of South Carolina

Master of Environmental Engineering

University of South Carolina